

I'm interested in implementing an image morphing algorithm that essentially translates one image into another. The concepts discussed in the november 1st and november 3rd lecture will provide very useful information. I will probably utilize a few more resources (research papers) in the near future. Any useful resources are greatly appreciated!